CHURCH PLANTING IN ARGENTINA

One of the sweetest moments from the past couple of months happened while presenting in a kids Sunday school class. After sharing in the class, we asked the kids to raise their hands if they knew someone who didn't know Jesus. A little boy named Christopher eagerly responded and said, "You guys need to come to my school because there are a lot of people there who don't know Jesus."

We told him, "Christopher, we can't go, but guess who is already there and can tell them about Jesus." Christopher eagerly responded, "Me!"

Later that morning, he came up to us, and handed us a dollar, saying, "Someone gave me this dollar, and I've learned that it's okay to give it away." In that moment, Christopher caught a vision for both sharing the gospel and giving to missions right where God has placed him. Moments like these remind us why we love encouraging families in missions.

Over the past two months, we've had the privilege of visiting churches, sharing our burden for Argentina, and using our book, Frankie and Lynn Reaching Argentina, to help kids and families see how they can be part of the Great Commission.

We are currently at 33% of our monthly support goal and are grateful for how the Lord continues to open doors to encourage others in missions.

Prayer Requests:

- For the kids and families we meet to be willing to serve wherever God calls.
- For continued church partnerships as we seek to reach our prayer and financial goals to reach the lost in Argentina.
- Praise the Lord that we are at 33% of our prayer and financial support goal.
